Making Changes

By JT

Making a effort towards being in a responsibility not giving up hope but to stay focused. Making changes allowing myself to be surrounded by boundaries and knowing good facts. Making changes to let people help, come into my life and help in any area that I need help. But facing life healing actions that take place and not worry about things.

Family

By GT

I would like for my family to be happy again. These holidays are not the same because my mother isn't here. My family at Threshold is there when my real family isn't around me. That makes me feel good about myself.

The One thing I would like the most

By WU

One thing that I would like more than anything else in the world would be to be able to start driving again. That would give me the ability to start exploring and sightseeing again and get out on the road with out depending on a friend to give me a ride. However, I recognize the disadvantage to all this would be the high cost of gas. I guess it just a fact of life as I am not young anymore. And it seems that life has pretty much passed me by!

Christmas

BY JC

Celebrate Change affecting chance to participate, respect to be unchallenged. Honor is the goal, help is the responsibility. Never surrender to distrust when distracting observant change. Love conquers everything that cannot respect peace. Change love not for the center evolves all. Want cannot fulfill anything else to therefore filter is synonymous. Change is resolute so that they cannot distract one another meditation therefore the redemption can and will be communion. Defeat the opposite of life to promote joy.

My Breakfast

BY LE

I made a cheese omelets. It almost burned on me but I am trying to learn how to make them. I decided to use milk with my eggs and cheese. When it was cooking I added a little more milk and it burned. The pan was really burnt. I am not going to burn the pan next time.

There was a old lady who went to sleep one year, and was up happy the next day. Why?

Happy New Year

There was a lady, a child and a dog. She was driving an old car to a Car show. Why?

She wanted a new one

Chicken, horse, pig. Which animal was for cooking?

Pig (pig out)

Thanksgiving

By Anonymous

Thanksgiving is the most fascinating holiday because it is the time the whole family gets to be together and enjoy each other. Everybody will be happy, active and have lots of foods to eat with music. Friends with their own traditions and dancing as well as gifts to exchange. Eventually people will go home happily ever after enjoying and telling the story of the party. That's why I love Thanksgiving the most.

It's a Great Day to Make a Deal, Spin my Wheels, At Threshold

By Shirley

Now, two a dip, an extra cup of coffee beans and a real peace and new tapes. Two a day, for all rest, and one piece of blottene'd powers to work on our a new energy. And a staff with a bald-headed eagle and a new way to say, and bow your knees to prey and be a believer cross of by-gones and so-gones and a peace light street and flies Now, the facts are to make of peace treaty with our potential people with our understanding without a wonderous skill and a new way to say Threshold's legacy to a note of solemn tides.

Winter Wonder land

BY SM

What is winter wonder land? A land of a magical snow storm at Christmas time. Giving and dime to help someone needy and not be greedy. Just happy for having a dime to buy food and now a bubbling crude. Not having a family. Arguments having a family feud is not. Kids love a winter wonderland, having and making a new snowman made out of fresh snow and no more argumental woes. Now auld langzion at Christmas time is giving kids oranges and not limes and spending some money with honey and cheer. My treat is winter wonder land and no more in no mans land. Making icicles out of snow and now my winter wonderland does exist and now Christmas is my snowy winter land and keeping good memories of

New Jersey

By MN

My trip to New Jersey was fun, I got to travel with my sister for the first time in 2 years since the pandemic. I was happy to get a chance to go back home and visit my Granddad. I also got to go to one of my favorite places, White Castle and get some hamburgers. I really enjoyed my trip back home to New Jersey. Hopefully, I can go back and stay for the summer.
